

Temporary Vacancy Logistics Assistant

Arjowiggins is the world's leading producer of Translucent Paper. Our Chartham Mill (U.K.) has been producing translucent paper since 1938 and has developed excellent production skills and technical expertise. This experience and knowledge helped our Quzhou Mill (China) to produce products to the same high-quality standard. Both operations have built up a worldwide reputation for the prestigious Curious & Gateway brands, used in Europe and the Far East for printed commercial advertising.

Under development for 4 years, Arjowiggins has just commercially launched a new barrier translucent paper, Sylvicta. Impervious to oxygen, aromas, oils, and greases, Sylvicta is already being used to replace plastic packaging films, not just because of its inherent barrier properties, but because it is recyclable, marine biodegradable and compostable.

Arjowiggins Chartham Mill Ltd is based in the historic village of Chartham just outside of Canterbury, England. The Mill, which operates 24 hours a day, consists of one paper machine and a paper conversion department producing around 6,000 tonnes of translucent paper per year. We are entering an exciting period where technical and quality expertise are key to the successful development of our product for the future.
